RULE CHANGES

1. Qualifying: An increase of 10 minute, back to the original 20 minute open session. Increased to try and get everyone in their correct grid positions to try and alleviate first lap aggression. This also means a reduction of open practice by 10 minutes.
2. Starting procedure: Allowing lead driver to actively predict green light, instead of keeping everyone tight until green light. Changed to try and alleviate first turn carnage.
3. BOP: SRW BOP dropped. It was decided to go with the iRacing built in BOP to keep the series drivers happy. it was a worthy experiment, if only proving that getting it right is too driver specific and not car specific. It proved too difficult to manage.
4. Class point system: Dropping the Motogp style points system for classes and making the points scored in the overall championship your class points. This was changed to make it easier not only for viewers but for commentators and admins to see if anyone was in the wrong class earlier and make it simple for the backroom staff when compiling the championship tables.

5. Blue Flag Rule: Making the responsibility 50/50 on the leading lap driver and the lapped driver. This was done to try and share the responsibility between the drivers in the instance that things go wrong. Lower class drivers need to learn how to work traffic as much as lead lap drivers.
